and Dr Billy Christmas,
King's College London

The Greek Orthodox Archdiocese of Thyateira and Great Britain is pleased to announce the establishment of a new monthly series for all adult ages called, Archdiocesan Lates. This new initiative will focus on and review with an Orthodox lens a particular publication/film through a stimulating presentation by The Archbishop followed by a thought provoking discussion by pertinent Orthodox academicians.

At the inaugural Archdiocesan Lates, His Eminence Archbishop Nikitas will review the book, “Bad Religion” written by Ross Douthat. The Rev. Dr George Tsourous and Dr Billy Christmas, King’s College London, will contextualise the discussion reflecting on commonalities with, and the experience within, the United Kingdom. A buffet-style dinner and non-alcoholic beverages will be offered as they are included in the ticket price.

The first Archdiocesan Lates will be generously subsidised by the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese of Thyateira and Great Britain, and graciously hosted at the Greek Orthodox Cathedral of the Divine Wisdom in Bayswater, W2 4LQ.
